

Judiciary Group Would Keep Alive State Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—A divided House Judiciary Committee today approved a sweeping bill to keep alive state laws even when Congress has enacted legislation in the same fields.

The bill originally was introduced after the Supreme Court reversed a conviction of Communist leader Steve Nelson under Pennsylvania antismuggling laws. The court held Congress had preempted this field when it passed a federal antismuggling law.

But today Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) told newsmen: "It is apparent the primary purpose of this bill is to strike at the growing and budding rights of Negroes, especially in labor and public life."

The bill was introduced by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), a leader of the Southern Democratic bloc in Congress and also author of the federal law the Supreme Court cited in the Nelson case. Smith contended he—and Congress—never intended it to supersede state laws.

The new Smith bill now goes to the House for action.

The committee approved another measure that specifically would restore the effectiveness of any state antismuggling laws hit by the Nelson ruling. This bill was offered by Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), a member of the committee and chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Jonesboro Holds Annexation Vote

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A special election was being held today on proposed annexation of nearby Nettleton to Jonesboro.

Residents of both cities voted on the proposal. Early voting was light in Jonesboro but heavy in Nettleton, where the proposal has been the subject of considerable controversy.

More Money Released for Housing Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration today released an additional 300 million dollars to carry out the government's anti-recession housing program.

Without the new allocation, the program would have run out of funds in about two weeks.

The Budget Bureau made the money available to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy government-backed home loans. FNMA can commit itself to buy, at par, mortgages of not more than $13,500 on homes not yet under construction.

In an effort to revive building as a counter to the recession, Congress made available up to one billion dollars for FNMA purchases of FHA and VA mortgages. The administration allocated only 300 million when the law went into effect last month, however, and 220 million of this already has been committed.

With this second allocation, the Budget Bureau still has authority from Congress to release an additional 400 million dollars.

Rayburn, Mills Also Against Tax Cut Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today he is "in full accord" with President Eisenhower's recommendation against substantial tax reductions this year.

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, concurred in Rayburn's statement at a joint news conference.

Mills said his committee will start consideration tomorrow of a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at their present levels.

Those rates, under existing law, would drop automatically July 1. Eisenhower has asked Congress to continue them to prevent an estimated three-billion-dollar drop in revenues.

Several members of Congress have said they will seek a reduction in the excise tax on automobiles, whose sales have been lagging.

A bill to extend the present corporate and excise rates is expected to reach the House floor early in June.

Rayburn said both he and Mills are "in accord" with the statement (from the President) that there will be no further recommendations for tax reductions this year.

"I have never thought that a tax reduction would be very pertinent in stopping a recession," Rayburn said. He added he could not comment on whether the recession is tapering off.

Republican congressional leaders said the administration's stand against any antirecession tax cut is prompted by the uneasy international situation and the threat of inflation. Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California gave newsmen that word after he and other GOP chiefs held their weekly meeting with President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, Monday, said he opposes any general tax reduction now. In doing so he renewed his request for a one-year extension of corporate and excise taxes at current levels.

Man Burned When Barrel of Tar Explodes

Bon B. McBay, carpenter of 721 Jones St., was critically burned about the chest, arms and face shortly before 11 a. m. today when a barrel of tar exploded at the Quick-Sak Grocery Store building now being erected at Third and Washington Streets.

Mr. McBay was engaged in heating the tar to put on the building's roof. It unexpectedly exploded and the hot tar struck him on the face, arms and chest. The extent of the burns could not be immediately determined.

He was rushed to a local hospital for treatment.

The cardinal died before he had a chance to take up his duties as prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith. He was the only native American ever named to the Vatican Curia, the church's highest administrative body.

The prelate was stricken first with a blood clot in his right arm while on route to Italy to take up his Vatican post. Three days later the arm was amputated to eliminate danger of gangrene.

Eight days ago, while apparently recovering rapidly, he suffered a severe stroke. He had lost ground steadily since then.

His last act before death was to kiss a small crucifix he kept with him throughout the past week of crisis.

U. S. Cardinal Stritch Dies in Rome

By FRANK BRUTTO

ROME (AP)—The body of Samuel Cardinal Stritch lay in state today at the Pontifical College where Americans study for the priesthood.

The 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago died early today at Rome's Sanatrix Clinic. He had been confined there with circulatory ailments since he arrived in Rome April 25 to assume the high post given him by Pope Pius XII.

The cardinal's body will remain at the North American Pontifical College until Wednesday night. Then it will be taken to Rome's St. Ignatius Church. A funeral mass will be celebrated there Thursday and the body will be flown home to Chicago for burial.

The funeral mass will be celebrated by Bishop Martin John O'Connor of Scranton, Pa., the rector of the Pontifical College.

All cardinals in Rome will pass before the body and each give his absolution.

The cardinal died before he had a chance to take up his duties as prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith. He was the only native American ever named to the Vatican Curia, the church's highest administrative body.

Pickets Turn Back All Non-Strikers

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Pickets at a big lake and power plant project turned back nonunion workers today, ousting up one of them after overturning his car and struck a news photographer in the face.

The action occurred when seven or eight carloads of Negro workers tried to get through a large crowd of members of the Operating Engineers' Union, some from as far away as Virginia.

The union accuses the contractor from as far away as Virginia.

The union accuses the contractor of paying below-scale wages for men operating earthmoving and other heavy equipment.

Cotton Crop in Arkansas Now Planted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Practically all of Arkansas' cotton crop has been planted and some chipping is under way, the federal state Crop Reporting Service said today.

The service said south Arkansas counties, slower with spring planting because of recent floods, were the only ones that didn't need showers to help germinate planted seed.

Need for rain was greatest on buckshot and other heavy soil in major cotton producing counties, the service reported.

Other highlights of the service's weekly crop report:

Corn planting progressed rapidly.

Moisture was needed in Sevier County to size up late strawberries. Most of the state's strawberry crop had been harvested.

Rice seeding was at least four-fifths complete in most major producing counties and early stands appeared grassy.

A large acreage of soybeans was planted in a number of counties.

Jaycees Plan Pageant to Pick Miss Hope

Hope Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a second annual beauty pageant at the Coliseum, Saturday night, June 14 to select Miss Hope to represent the city in the Miss Arkansas contest to be held during July.

At the same time a Miss Hospitality will be selected to take part in the annual all-star high school games at Little Rock during August. All proceeds from the pageant will be donated to the Youth Center.

In addition to the evening gown and bathing suit division contestants must have talent numbers. Entry blanks and qualifications will be announced soon. Miss Hospitality will be judged on beauty and personality alone. All interested girls should contact a Jaycee member as soon as possible.

More Trouble Caused by Red Called Strikes

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, announced today he is moving to take over the government by legal means. He said he expects to succeed and urged the crisis-ridden nation to remain calm.

He promised a quick contact with the Gaullist leaders in Algeria to settle the crisis.

De Gaulle's latest move threw the political situation of France into unprecedented confusion. There was speculation the government knew nothing about it beforehand.

Pfiffman reached his decision after a Cabinet meeting and two conferences with President Rene Coty.

A minister who attended the meeting said Pfiffman would make a statement to the National Assembly in presenting a government motion which would pose a question of confidence.

If confidence is voted, Pfiffman will stay in his job. If the vote goes against him, he will resign and De Gaulle presumably will be called in by the President.

De Gaulle had moved today to form a new government, and for the first time there were reports that Pfiffman and Coty were helping him lay the foundations for a takeover under the established rules.

As things looked at nightfall, De Gaulle could not win a vote in the Assembly.

Apart from the Communists, the Socialists were solidly against him. So were perhaps 40 per cent of the middle party—the Popular Republicans (MRP)—and a goodly number of center groups.

But the political situation was developing so rapidly from hour to hour that there could be sudden shifts in party positions.

De Gaulle has said he intends to use legal means to reach office. That implies he would have to be invested by the National Assembly as other premiers are. He would be unlikely to accept a slim majority.

Any contact between De Gaulle and President Rene Coty was constitutionally illegal until the Pfiffman government quits.

New trouble boiled up for France. Hundreds of thousands of workers began laying down their tools in a general strike called by a huge Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor to protest against De Gaulle's rise to power.

Three rail stations were tied up when switchmen walked off duty. But only 40 of the city's 1,700 buses returned to their garages.

Restraint Urged in N. Africa

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is urging French military authorities in Algeria, as well as the Tunisian, French and Moroccan governments, to exercise the utmost restraint in the current political crisis.

State Department officials reported this today as French Ambassador Guye Alphonse called to deliver a note detailing what he called the provocations which the French army in Tunisia has had to suffer in the last few days.

This Is Story of Shaggy, the Lion

EATONTOWN, N. J. (AP)—This is a shaggy lion story.

It started over the weekend, when a Monmouth College biology professor, Dr. William Garner, reported seeing a lion lying contentedly on the grass just off the Garden State Parkway.

Hunt Brothers Circus is playing in nearby Freehold, and authorities theorized the lion may have escaped from there.

The circus met this theory halfway. It reported a zebra missing. But the zebra was found munching grass in a corner of the circus grounds and that seemed to be the end of that.

Later, however, James L. Orr, principal of the Whitesville School in Neptune Township, said he heard what sounded like a lion roaring during the night. Orr lives in the area near the parkway.

Armed with the testimony of the two educators—and also some folks—police, white hunters and volunteers beat the bush for the elusive beast.

The natives spent all day looking for the displaced king of the jungle, but the biggest game they sighted was a rather large alley cat.

Judgment Is Set Aside by High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court in a 4-3 decision today reversed a judgment of $23,061 for an automobile accident death because of questions about an insurance company asked prospective jurors.

The divided court also laid down as a general rule for the future that questions about a prospective juror's insurance connections should refer only to insurance companies in general, "no particular company should not be named when the information wanted can just as well be obtained by the use of general questions."

The cancelled judgment was awarded in Hot Spring Circuit Court to Mr. and Mrs. Forace Green for the death of a 10-year-old son Phillip who was killed Nov. 15, 1936 when his automobile collided with one driven by James DeLong.

The majority opinion said an attorney for the plaintiffs was permitted to ask prospective jurors if they owned stock in or had any other connection with the Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Insurance Co.

The questions were unsuccessful ly protested by the defense attorneys who conceded that the company had insured his clients and who requested that the interrogation be limited to insurance companies in general.

"He went on to say," Associate Justice George Rose Smith wrote for the majority, "that there was a conflict in the county between farmers supporting the Farm Bureau and those supporting the Farmers Union, both of which had insurance companies, but at least two members of the jury were decidedly biased against the Farm Bureau and that to indicate the Farm Bureau was a defendant would affect these men."

Associate Justices Ed McFaddin, Minor W. Millwee and Sam Robinson dissented. They did not immediately hand down a written opinion.

The National Assembly recessed shortly before De Gaulle issued his statement. Premier Pierre Pflimlin and members of his Popular Republican Movement (MRP) hurried off to see President Coty.

De Gaulle moved today in utmost secrecy.

No one at his Paris headquarters had advance notice that he intended issuing a statement.

From his country home 150 miles from Paris, De Gaulle telephoned the declaration to his orderly officer, Lt. Col. Gaston de Boneville, in Paris.

It said in part: "I started yesterday the regular process necessary for the establishment of a republican government capable of assuring the unity and the independence of the country."

"I depend on that process being carried through and that the country will show by its calm and its dignity that it wishes it to succeed."

"I expect the land, sea and air forces in Algeria to remain exemplary under the orders of their chiefs—Gen. (Raoul) Salan, Adm. (Philippe) Aubeyneau, Gen. Edmond Jouhaud."

The military chiefs in Algeria first launched the move to bring De Gaulle to power.

It was not immediately clear whether the World War II hero had been asked by President Coty to form a government.

A spokesman at the presidential palace said he was not aware that Coty had asked De Gaulle to step in. But he added that could have been done by telephone.

De Gaulle slipped into Paris Monday night and presumably set the takeover machinery in motion. He spent four hours in Paris, then returned to his home.

In the wake of De Gaulle's statement Communist and non-Communist leaders met together and decided to make immediate joint contact with the government.

There was nothing to indicate that De Gaulle met with Pflimlin.

Honor Medal Awaits U. S. Unknown

By ELTON C. FAY

ABOARD U.S.S. CANBERRA

(AP)—A Medal of Honor sailor stood silently at the foot of two caskets on the rain-swept deck of a warship today and picked the unknown fighting man of World War II.

Hospitalman William R. Charette made his solemn choice after standing for a contemplative moment midway between the two bronze caskets of the World War unknowns—one who died for his country on the battlefields of Europe, the other in the Pacific.

Charette stood at the foot of another casket—that of an unknown who fought to the death on a Korean battlefield.

In his hand Charette held a floral wreath.

He stepped forward. He thought for a minute, then chose the casket at his right hand.

Later Charette told newsmen that not until the final instant did he make his choice—"until I stood up there I did not know" which one to choose.

"To be truthful I started to turn toward the left," he said, but changed his mind at the last minute. Charette is right handed.

The sailor said he prayed for guidance before he ascended to the deck where the caskets stood.

Charette, a 26-year-old Navy hospitalman first class, fought with the Marines in Korea and wears the Medal of Honor for bravery in that war.

The scene was somber. A light rain fell from a slate gray sky and the sea was calm with only the long easy rollers of the Atlantic to set the funeral ships rocking slowly.

Before Charette made his choice the three caskets covered with the American colors were brought up from below decks.

Bodies of the three unknowns had been transferred to the Canberra

A high source at the President's Elysee Palace, who would not be named, said the resignation of the Pflimlin Cabinet could be expected tonight.

The same source said De Gaulle saw the Premier during his mysterious visit to Paris on Monday night. The two agreed on the formation of a new government, which would be headed by De Gaulle but include at least some of the ministers now in office.

earlier in a lonely but impressive seiche at sea.

The Canberra and its sister missile cruiser Boston turned their bows to the east, slowed to almost steeplow speed, and silently floated side by side.

The coffins of the World War II dead were brought across first. Then came the casket of the Korean dead, which had been brought to the Boston from the destroyer Blandy.

Of the three unknowns, two are bound for the homeland for which they died in World War II and Korea, to be buried beside World War I's Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

The order was requested last week in a suit filed at Little Rock by the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission.

In the suit, the SEC contended that Southwest Securities and its two top officers, Allen Goldsmith and Faye Goldsmith, made allegedly untrue statements about the value of stock in the General Insurance Investment Co. of Dallas.

Restraining Order in Securities Case

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—U.S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope today granted a temporary restraining order against Southwest Securities, Inc., of Little Rock to prevent the use of interstate commerce and the mails in selling stock for a Dallas investment firm.

The order was requested last week in a suit filed at Little Rock by the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission.

In the suit, the SEC contended that Southwest Securities and its two top officers, Allen Goldsmith and Faye Goldsmith, made allegedly untrue statements about the value of stock in the General Insurance Investment Co. of Dallas.

The commission filed a second suit alleging that Southwest Securities, the Dallas firm and co-

DOROTHY DIX

Romance, Like Dessert, Is Just a Nice "Extra"

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm still in my teens, married, have a darling baby, a nice home, a good husband but still I'm unhappy. While we were going steady Bert was so romantic. He used to do the cutest things and had a great way with sweet talk. Now he's settled down to being a husband and father and completely forgot to be a romantic lover. That's what I want. I hate his dutiful pucks on the cheek that pass for kisses. Mother says I'm being a fool; that any girl with as much to be thankful for as I have should be eternally happy. Who's right? GIGI

Dear Gigi: You are a bit of a fool. You have all the things that make life worthwhile, that brings happiness contentment and a fulfillment of dreams. If you are willing to sacrifice all this for a kiss, you are foolish. Real life isn't a movie script. You expect marriage to be a prolonged petting party and, believe me, you got much more out of it than you deserved. Your husband has contributed so much in the way of a lovely home, good income, and the sort of love that endures. Sure, it may not be as pretty as a pink frosted party cake but it's a lot more filling. Meat and potatoes aren't to be sneezed at. Life has been very good to you; learn to appreciate what you have instead of yearning for the moon. Bert's way of saying "I love you" may not be romantic, but believe me without the home, car and baby, romance would get pretty boring.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My problem concerns two girls. One is a redhead who gets furiously jealous at everything I do. The other is a stunning brunette, who is loads of fun, but won't take seriously. They're close friends, get together, and discuss everything so one lone male doesn't seem to have much chance.

Dear Russ: These girls must have peachy gabfests when they get together. I imagine you're the most discussed subject. Why not try for a blonde without a close sidekick.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a 50-year old spinster engaged to a widower of 43. He's a person of rare intellect, extreme culture, keen judgment and has a good income. We get along very well, but there is a slight hitch. He has a 14 year old daughter, and she seems more delighted at the idea of having a mother for joy, than for having a wife for herself.

Dear T. M. G.: Could very well be, and unless you're prepared to put considerable time and effort into being Joy's mother, you'd better think twice about taking on the job.

Dear F. F.: Since you are fighting on equal grounds (although you seem to have a slight advantage) why give up? Don't just hand the boy over on a silver platter. Go to the party, be your charming best and hope for the prize.

CHAPTER 20
"What about Alberto de la Garra?" I asked.
"The one who killed the American and then killed himself in the prison? I know nothing about him."
"Does your mother's cousin's son know if he killed himself or was killed?"
"He has not said," he answered. "Which means he does not know for Bernardo tells to the family everything he knows. He is a family with much knowledge. If the Don Millo is interested, we do know that de la Garra killed the American. He shot him through the head from behind."
"How do you know that?" I asked.
"My sister's brother-in-law saw the killing. He was sunning himself up north of the city. My sister's brother-in-law likes to take a siesta up there. He saw the two men walking together and de la Garra fell behind the American, then pulled a gun and shot him."
"Did he tell the police this?"
"In the Mexican Republic one does not rush to the police with stories of what one has seen. One waits until the newspapers have published what it is that the police wish to say about the thing. Then if one wishes one goes to the police and says that it is so. But even that is sometimes dangerous."
In the next day or so I was to become glad that Luis had a large family. That day when I got back to the hotel I discovered there had been hundreds of phone calls and there were almost a hundred people waiting to see me. All in answer to the ads I'd run.
The next morning it was worse. So I solved it by hiring two of Luis's cousins to see the people and make careful lists of what they had. And we arranged to route everyone to the home of one of the cousins.
In the meantime Luis and I went on visiting old homes outside of the city.
The only other thing that happened was that Raimundo Perola phoned me twice. Each time after making sure there was nothing he could do to help, he got around to the main subject; had I assured Miss Mullany that they were doing everything to assist her representative.
I went up to my hotel room the end of the fifth day and went through my usual ritual. First a hot shower, then a shave and then a drink to take the taste of dust out of my mouth.
The telephone rang. I dragged myself off the bed and went over to answer it.
"Senior March?" a voice asked. It was a woman's voice. A nice one, warm, I thought vaguely familiar.
"Yes," I said.
"I would like to see you as soon as possible," she said. "I am Senorita Fulano."
Fulano was the name the underground contact was supposed to give me. Juana was Senorita Fulano. And this was definitely not Juana.
"Dichoso los ojos que lo ven a usted," she said, saying the sentence that was also supposed to identify the underground contact. "All right," I said. "Where shall I meet you?"
"Do you know the Cafe Bendito?"
"No, but I suppose I could find it."
"It's on Torcido Avenida," she said. "I will take you perhaps 10 minutes to reach it from your ho-

Governor Not Worried by Labor Stand

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus said today he does not consider the failure of a state labor group to support him for a third term as a slap at him by the working people of Arkansas.

"I have many, many friends among the working people and will get some support from them," Faubus told a news conference. The Arkansas Committee on Political Education said Saturday night that Faubus had forfeited the candidacy of any of Faubus' opponents although it came close to officially supporting Chris P. Finkbeiner.

Faubus said today he intends to spend some time analyzing the labor organizations' resolution before commenting in detail.

Asked to evaluate the year at racially integrated Central High School, the governor said:

"It has been the most unusual year any American student ever spent in a school. It is not a proper atmosphere for education."

He declined additional comment in view of the Little Rock integration hearings which resume June 3 in U. S. District Court here.

An Incident in Central High Graduation

By SY RAMSEY
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An historic baccalaureate was held at Central High School last night against a backdrop that resembled an armed camp. There was at least one racial incident.

About 120 armed National Guardsmen and some 100 policemen rolled into the school area shortly before the first racially integrated baccalaureate began. The service went smoothly on the football field. But before it started seven Negroes were arrested in a car a few blocks away. And afterwards a white youth was arrested for spitting at a Negro visitor.

Dr. W. H. Hicks, a Baptist pastor, delivered the sermon. He did not mention racial matters.

Among the 800 seniors to be graduated tomorrow is Ernest Green, a 16-year-old Negro. He is the first of his race to get a diploma from Central High. The scene of rioting last September when Green and eight other Negroes entered the school.

Green stood calmly outside the had to get to my gun quickly. Then I reached out and opened the curtain quickly.

She was the little dark haired girl who had come into my office with a pastel blue gun to shoot me. The girl who'd been on the plane with me. According to the Pan American records her last name was Sanjurjo. And how she was going to claim she was Fulana.

"Buenas tardes, Senior March," she said.
"Maybe it is a small world after all," I said. "What color gun are you going to use this time?"
"I'm sorry about that," she said. "I will explain. Won't you sit down, please?"
I sat down.

stadium before services. Asked if he were nervous, he said:
"Sure I'm nervous. It's baccalaureate."

No one molested Green. He waited outside the stadium awhile after the ceremony, apparently for relatives. Then three detectives escorted him to a gate.

As some 1,500 persons, including 25 Negro visitors, filed outside the stadium a white youth spat at one of the Negroes. He was arrested by city police, charged with disturbing the peace and released on $250 bond.

A photographer for the Arkansas Democrat who tried to take pictures of the incident was almost slugged with a baton by a white woman. Officers took him away from other hostile whites.

Nearly an hour before the baccalaureate seven Negroes were arrested in a car a few blocks from the stadium. All were booked for disturbing the peace and two were charged with carrying a concealed weapon—a gun and a knife. All were released under bond.

Police said the chaos actually started far from the school area. They declined to say whether the incident had any racial connection.

But a newsmen on the scene said he heard one of the Negroes say that all were on the way to the stadium to protect Green.

The Negro student seemed to need no further protection. Uniformed police and plainclothesmen mingled with the crowd and watched for signs of trouble. Soldiers in battle dress entrenched themselves inside the school while jeeps patrolled around the massive building.

Several Negro newsmen charged that Supt. Virgil Blossom had barred them from covering the services. Asked for comment Blossom said before the ceremony:
"You didn't ask me that. Ask me tomorrow. You didn't see me tonight."

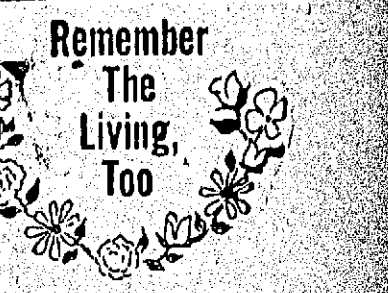

While newsmen had been restricted earlier by Blossom in various phases of coverage, last night some officers eyed them suspiciously. A photographer was ordered to stop taking pictures. Several newsmen were told to go inside the stadium. All were moved into a roped-off area and told by police to stay there.

A segregationist spokesman yesterday called for a public protest against attendance restrictions. The Rev. Wesley Pruden, a Baptist minister and president of the Capital Citizens Council, said:
"Could it be that Supt. Blossom and the School Board are so obsessed with (news) coverage that they are ashamed for the people to witness that it has been played on behalf of one Negro graduate?"

Although admission last night was supposed to be by ticket none was required. Passes will be needed by all visitors and newsmen for commencement tomorrow. School officials said.

The 400 National Guardsmen who are enforcing court-ordered integration at Central High School will be unofficially disbanded after the last Negro leaves the stadium tomorrow night. They will leave nearby Camp Robinson by Thursday.

Millions of Americans will take to the road on the long holiday weekend. So remember to drive safely. Help prevent traffic deaths by being extra careful at the wheel on your holiday trip.

It takes a GIANT to build a business... a $575,000,000 business!

"Newspaper advertising has built our business." So spoke H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Company, America's fifth largest food chain. In a recent address to the members of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Markets, Mr. McNamara made it clear that, "newspaper advertising has been the greatest contributing factor in our sales increase... from $99,000,000 in 1944 to $575,000,000 in 1955."

Newspapers Get Results

"Newspaper advertising, both national and local, brings results, the kind of results you can measure on the cash register, or in stock movement, actual sales results, not next week, not next year, but as soon as the newspaper hits the streets. That's real ACTION ADVERTISING. That's the kind of impact that gets results — and that's the kind of advertising in which we like to invest our money."

Two-Thirds Or More For "Action" Advertising

Since 1944 the National Tea Company has spent over $80,000,000 for advertising and sales promotion... and at least 66% per cent of these advertising dollars has been invested in newspaper space. In Mr. McNamara's own words:

"Until someone invents another medium that will do a better job of delivery of our advertising wrapped up in a fast reading package of news, pictures, and interesting, educational features, that will get deeper and more dominant home penetration than the daily newspaper, I will continue to recommend... that we earmark at least two-thirds of all our advertising dollars for newspapers. Newspaper advertising is ACTION ADVERTISING that drives home the impact to get immediate results."

Nothing Sells Like Newspapers

Advertisers in every field share Mr. McNamara's views. They know that building sales in today's competitive market is a job for a giant... a job for newspapers. Only newspapers are big enough to reach into the smallest hamlet or to blanket the biggest city. That's why advertisers — big and small, national and local — are investing in newspapers at a record pace — $3,087,800,000 last year, more than was spent in radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined. Put the giant to work building sales for you.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

NOW WHAT'S YOUR OBJECTION TO ME SERVING AS FIELD AGENT ON THIS TWO-HEADED GOD PROJECT?

WHY, BECAUSE, MY CHILD, I HAVEN'T THE LEAST OBJECTION TO YOU DOING THIS RESEARCH.

IN FACT, NOT BEING FREE TO ACCOMPANY SO LOVELY A YOUNG LADY ON THIS MISSION LEAVES ME DESOLATE INDEED!

WELL? I'LL BE READY IN ABOUT A HALF HOUR!

ALLEY OOP

WE CAN NEVER BUDGE THAT HATCH, CAPTAIN! IF THOSE CAPITALIST DOGS GET HELD, WE'RE DONE FOR.

I KNOW! I CANNOT FACE THAT DISGRACE THEY WILL NOT TAKE ME ALIVE!

SORRY YOU INSISTED ON PUTTING UP A FIGHT, FELLA! BUT I MUST USE YOUR RADIO!

WAIT TILL HE GETS THE BAR PHONES ON, SO HE CAN'T HEAR YOU, THEN GET THE JUMP ON HIM!

WASH TUBBS

Erskine Perking Up the Last Place L.A. Bums

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A year ago, Carl Erskine was prepared to quit if his arm trouble didn't respond to treatment. Today you'd have to tear that Dodger uniform off his back.

The Happy Hoosier gained his second complete game victory Monday night, following up a shutout victory over St. Louis eight days ago, with a two-hit, 2-1 decision at Philadelphia for the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The fourth-place Chicago Cubs were beaten 4-3 at Milwaukee in the only other National League game scheduled.

Only one game was scheduled in the American League, and the Kansas City Athletics won it, beating Baltimore 3-4.

Erskine, once the ace of the Dodger staff, was shooting for his third no-hitter for 5-13 innings, and had a one-hit shutout until the eighth, when he pitched a perfect game, breaking up his 11th homer, breaking up the game in eighth inning for 4-3 victory over the Cubs.

Haney Breaks Old Adage, It Pays Off

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Manager Fred Haney and the Milwaukee Braves seem to have profited by ignoring the old adage and breaking up a winning combination of coaches.

As one Milwaukee player put it recently: "There's harmony between Haney and the new coaches now where there wasn't last year, at least from about June on. After all, these are Fred's men. He couldn't say that last season. They were either here when he came or picked for him."

Calendar of Events
Tuesday, May 27
The Blevins Band Mother's Club will sponsor a Musical Festival at Blevins Training School Tuesday, May 27, at 8 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The members of Garrett Chapel Baptist Church will observe the 21st anniversary of Rev. F. E. Williams as pastor of that church, with a series of services beginning Tuesday, May 27 and ending Sunday, June 1.

Tuesday night's guests will be the District Congress Chorus.

Wednesday, May 28
The Seventy Second Commencement Exercises of Henry C. Yerger, High School began Sunday, May 25, at 3 p.m., with Elder O. N. Dennis, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, delivering the sermon, "The Two Ways of Life." The Class Night Program will be presented Wednesday, May 23 at 8 p.m. in Harris Gymnasium.

Coming and Going
Mrs. Marie Williams and family attended the Baccalaureate Service and Reception at AMAN College, Pine Bluff, Sunday, May 25. They also visited her sister, who is a member of the faculty of one of the Pine Bluff schools. They were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Daisy Glasgow, and other friends of Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Woolfolk, Mrs. Ruby Woolfolk and Mrs. Blanche Woolfolk of St. Louis were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Cannon.

They couldn't say that last season. They were either here when he came or picked for him."

The Braves surprised most of the baseball world last fall when they fired three of their coaches 16 days after beating the Yankees in the World Series.

Ousted were Connie Ryan, Johnny Riddle and Charlie Root. The resignation of bullpen coach Bob Keely this spring, ostensibly because of poor health, made it a clean sweep.

Serving under the 60-year-old Haney this season are Billy Herman, John Fitzgibbon, an old sidekick from Haney's Pittsburgh days, Whittow Wyatt and George Sussie.

The Yankees take an unprecedented pre-Memorial Day lead of nine games into Kansas City tonight, with unbeaten Bob Turley looking for his eighth victory.

The A's were blanketed for three innings Monday by Connie Johnson as nine-year veteran Jim Busby's first major league grand slam homer pushed the Orioles in to a 4-0 lead in the fourth and chased Ralph Terry. But the A's then counted three in their fourth, two on Bob Martin's homer, and squared it in the fifth on Harry Chitt's homer.

In the National League, Milwaukee edged within two games of the San Francisco Giants, beating the Chicago Cubs 4-3 on Ed Mathews's 11th home run. Carl Erskine tossed a two-hitter as Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 2-1.

American Loop Back to the Same Grind

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tale of Casey and the Seven Dwarfs, sometimes known as the American League pennant race, gets back to the old grind tonight after a refreshing change of pace Monday, when the New York Yankees failed to fatten their first place bulge.

They couldn't either the Yankees nor second-place Boston were scheduled. Only one game was in the books, and that one gave Kansas City a 5-4, 10th inning victory over Baltimore on relief pitcher Murry Dickson's home run.

The Yankees take an unprecedented pre-Memorial Day lead of nine games into Kansas City tonight, with unbeaten Bob Turley looking for his eighth victory.

The A's were blanketed for three innings Monday by Connie Johnson as nine-year veteran Jim Busby's first major league grand slam homer pushed the Orioles in to a 4-0 lead in the fourth and chased Ralph Terry. But the A's then counted three in their fourth, two on Bob Martin's homer, and squared it in the fifth on Harry Chitt's homer.
